

TUSCAN VINES Passionately Pursuing Italian Wine & Food

24th January 2016

“The 2011 Collemattoni Brunello was an eye opener for me. In the glass, it's a brilliant shimmering ruby with the classic copper rim. Very elegant on both the nose and palate with crushed berries, light floral notes and spices on the nose. Long, lively classic palate with spicy red plums, sweet tobacco and just a hint of orange rind. Intriguing. Aged in large Slavonian botte. This was a favorite of many that tasted it over the course of dinner. 92+ points. Another nice value around $45”

<https://tuscanvines.blogspot.it/2016/12/brunello-2011-complete-tasting-report.html?showComment=1482332725860>